Mrs. W. H. Cain, Jr., our clever Bewleyville correspondent, "Golden Bell" was a passenger on the train Saturday night returning from Louisville. The News was pleased to meet her.

The News enjoyed a ride from Brandenburg to Ekron Monday with its former townsmen, P. P. Archer, of Ekron. This is a beautiful section of Meade county, good road, fine farms and right in the heart of it. The orchards all look vigorous and are just beginning to bud out. There will be a world of apples up there next fall.

Miss Mollie B. Board has opened a stock of ladies' hats that are of the very latest style. Miss Mollie spent several months in Chicago last year where she worked in some of the best milliners' establishments in that city. The promise to give the people of Irvington and surrounding country anything they want in the millinery line this spring.

Benjamin Beavin and family will leave for Louisville today at which place they will make their home. Mr. Beavin has been in apparent successful business here for the past two or three years, and his friends are at a loss to know why he is not satisfied with the results during these hard times. He will embark in the tobacco business at Louisville.

It is probably logical in some kind of a protest to strike the country.
—M. B. Raymond, Press Agent Walter L. Main's office, Headquarters Galt House, Louisville, pays the following compliment to two News ad men: "I have no complaint you on the excellent arrangement of our ad." The copy for this was in manuscript and not "set up" from type as most News ads are. The arrangement was left entirely to our foreman, whose taste and skill in setting ads is not surpassed by any printer in the state and Mr. Raymond, who is a constant judge of such work, justifies us in saying so. The mechanical work on the News is up-to-date in every department.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Epworth League, held in the Methodist church last Friday evening the following officers were elected: Pres. J. H. Logan, president, Miss Ida White vice-president, J. J. Dyer 2nd and John B. 3rd vice-presidents, Edmund Greer secretary and treasurer. The League is now six months old and is doing a good work and giving the public some interesting and profitable religious entertainments. The membership is more than fifty.

The News dropped in on Herndon, Carter Co., the wholesale commission merchant, Louisville, last week and was somewhat "wet back" when he left. Manager H. W. Herndon at that time had just shipped the day before two carloads of chickens containing over six thousand hens and were shipping that day one car load eggs containing 450 for each case. There goods all came from down your country and the shipping cost the benefit of our large eastern trade. This is one of the largest commission houses in Louisville and is doing a good business. They say they owe their success largely to advertising in the country papers and especially to the News. Their ad appears in more than seventy-five papers in this state and Indiana.

STEPHENSPOET.
Regular services were held at the Baptist church Sunday by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Hunt.
Full cloth fertilizers, genuine Oliver Chilled plows and repairs and double shovels. Call and see me.—C. C. LeVine.

James T. Jenkins, representative of the Central Warehouse, spent the past week here looking after the interests of his home.

Mrs. E. Vaughan, of Louisville, after having spent the winter here with her son, Mr. R. W. Vaughan, left for her home Saturday.

Bro. R. M. Phillips, former pastor of the Christian church at this point passed through on Friday en route to his home at Liberty, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ferry, formerly of this port, but now of Henderson, spent four or five days with us and Mr. Miller last week and left on Monday for their home.

Doc White, our congenial doctor, as we are all aware, is no musician, yet, nevertheless, he is a fine catcher of fish, for he can more than any one in town, "keeping timber crack."

Hess Morgan, or town marshal, was appointed fire inspector last week and has already reported a great many places in bad condition. Parties having bad places will be notified to fix them at once or abide by the penalty of the law.

Parties desiring insurance in and around Henderson would do well to write to R. W. Vaughan, the leading agent of the Royal Insurance Company, whose headquarters are at Stephensport, Ky.

Hard trees are an advantage to any town and we think if the property owners along Main street would plant trees at a proper distance apart on both sides of the street, that we would in a few years have beautiful streets. Do you read this and say—that's what—but go to work and put out trees at once.

George McManis, one of Stephensport's old residents, was in town last week. He is now selling clothing. He has a beautiful line of goods, but the buttons; guaranteed not to rip, wear out until you want another suit.

We congratulate Messrs. Gilmour Bros., tobacco company, Owensboro, in securing such a valuable representative as Ed Crawford, and if Ed can't sell tobacco or anything else why we would like to know what he is doing. We will miss Ed's bright line in this territory very much and we say: Much success to you Ed old boy.

Shot His Man and Then Cut His Own Throat.
Allen Sanders, living with H. I. Rhodes, near Garrett, made a narrow escape from death last Sunday morning. Mr. Sanders had been working for Mr. Rhodes on his farm. Mr. Rhodes' brother Milton was also at work for him. He and Sanders it seems could not get along and Sanders decided to throw up his job and leave. Friday night he settled up with Mr. Rhodes and made his arrangements to go next morning, Saturday. Something detained him and he remained over until Sunday morning when he got up early, ate his breakfast, saddled his horse, mounted and rode off leaving all in peace and harmony. When he got about one hundred yards from the house to his great surprise, who should he see, but Milton Rhodes crouched up in a fence corner, shot him in hand and then turned to shoot at him. No sooner did Sanders spy his enemy than he was "down" and his hands were being wrung. Sanders dropped over on the side of his horse, but not in time to see the contents of his gun. Rhodes fired and killed Sanders and then turned to the house got his shoes and then made for the woods. The country was searched for his day Sunday and Monday night, but he could not be found Monday morning about 6 o'clock, while his brother H. I. Rhodes and some hands were working in a place near a ground, a short distance from the barn, the body of Rhodes was found lying near a brushheap with his throat cut. In his right hand was a razor with which he had cut his own life. It is supposed that soon after the shooting he made for the woods and committed the act. It is thought by those who know him that he was crazy and had been for several months.

Rhodes was a young man 25 years old and of good family.
Sanders at last accounts was getting along very well. Over two hundred shoes were removed from his body.

IRVINGTON.

Mrs. J. R. Wynn is in Louisville for a short visit.
Miss Ellen Wathen has returned to her brother Richard's.

Two new houses show up on Carey Avenue. They will soon be ready for occupancy.
Messrs. E. R. Protheroe and Herndon McChesney went to Louisville Saturday returning Sunday evening.

Miss Annie Conner, of Hardinsburg, and Miss Mary Cannon, of Long Lick, are visiting the Misses Rhodes.
Mrs. Piggott and little ones are visiting Mrs. Wathen. She will remain, taking in the Easter celebration at the Catholic church.

We had a "short but sweet" visit from "Golden Rod," of Bewleyville, which the little ones enjoyed quite as fully as the older members of the family.
Gertrude Bell, the infant child of Geo. Bell, died last Wednesday from the effects of whooping cough and was interred in the Catholic cemetery at Merino.

We welcome Miss Julia Greenwood once more and regret that necessarily called her to Cloverport, at a time when we felt her presence a need in our reading circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Worland Carter went to Cloverport to visit Mrs. Flagg Carter, whom we are pleased to hear is recovering from her recent severe attack of pneumonia.

A labor day was slightly celebrated last week and Walnut and Maple Avenue hills, in the town to come, hope, glad grateful to the small boy with his marbles and top.

T. M. McGlothin, Chas. Stith, Bate Washington, Forest Stith and wife and others of this locality took advantage of the excursion Saturday for a day of pleasure and profit in the city.

Mrs. Rhodes was called to Long Lick last Thursday to see her venerable mother, Mrs. Mattingly, who was lying at the point of death. Extreme age was the cause of her death, which occurred on Friday the 4th inst.

Master Lolly had a little trip to Frankfort last week with his father. He took in all the sights and upon his return imparted his "wisdom" to the other little ones, less fortunate. Eliza says he will be his.

Lightning struck the house occupied by Mr. R. B. Protheroe last Monday, but apart from considerable scare to the inmates and quite a lot of soot and ashes to be doctored from the nice carpets and furniture (not an enviable job by any means) the damage was slight.

Don't forget to come out next Saturday evening to hear Mr. Johannek, of Fenton, at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock. It will be both profitable and interesting, and something of a novelty to see the native dress of the Penns.

The excursion was a very quiet and orderly affair and Mr. Bate certainly deserves credit for the manner in which it was conducted. It was quite as pleasant and comfortable a trip as one on the regular passenger, and apart from the late hour of arrival at home there was nothing unpleasant or uncomfortable about it.

The remains of Mrs. Moses Carter, of Louisville, were brought down and taken over to Carter for interment. Mrs. Carter was a sister of Mr. Foster Lyons. She leaves a husband and seven children, two of whom are still very ill with the same fever, (pneumonia) which seems so fatal in Louisville this winter and spring.

At the last meeting of the Reading Circle some interesting papers were read and important subjects discussed. The paper on "Territorial Possessions of France" by Miss B. Ada Durr, was particularly instructive, and Miss Ada deserves much credit for the care and thought bestowed upon the article. Mrs. Wathen and Miss Greenwood also deserve a word of praise for their timely criticisms on French Dramatic writers and Pulpit orators of the 17th century. An opportunity (golden) to hear them—only can do justice to them.

Rev. Mr. Carroll will celebrate Easter at Mount Merino church. "Golden Hymns" in the morning, followed by sermon and Benediction in the afternoon. Elaborate preparations are in progress to make it an impressive and beautiful ceremony. The choir will render some excellent selections and Miss Nora Henderson will be special soloist for the occasion. Miss Nora's voice is too well-known in this community to require comment, and we feel sure it will all be an interesting and beautiful memorial.

Church Notes.
The Ladies Missionary society of the Baptist church will have a call meeting at Rev. W. B. Eubank's, Thursday at 5 o'clock p. m., a full attendance is desired.
There will be no prayer meeting at the Baptist church tonight.

The meeting at the Elm Street Methodist church has begun very encouragingly. Rev. G. W. Lyon, of Morgantown, is doing good service by his services. Services at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. each day. Everybody invited.

On Good Friday evening, April 12, there will be a service of the Cross at St. Rose Catholic church at 7:30 p. m.
The next service at St. Rose church will be on the 3rd Sunday of April, i. e. April 22nd, at 10:30 a. m.

On Easter Sunday Rev. Mr. Carroll will hold services at Irvington Catholic church at 10 a. m.

On Monday, April 22nd at 10 a. m. Mr. Rev. B. H. McKinley will administer confirmation at the Irvington Catholic church. Protestants, as well as Catholics, are cordially invited.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
To the Republicans of Breckenridge County.

In response to the pressing appeals of my friends, I have, after much hesitation, decided to become a candidate for Representative from Breckenridge county, subject to the action of our county convention. And in doing so, I act not without having fully considered the responsibility and duty which an election would impose upon me. I am deeply sensible to the fallibility of human nature and the sacred duty of the Legislature. Yet, firmly resolving to observe the law of Right, and relying on the earnest support and fair consideration of my countrymen and the wisdom and generosity of the Higher Power for the strength to carry out this intention, I have after serious meditation, consented to assume an undertaking so weighty and so important.

My purpose in soliciting this trust is not selfish ambition nor personal aggrandizement; but that I may have an opportunity of serving in my poor way, a people which I have learned to love, and of doing whatever may be within my power for the perfection of the laws which have secured to me protection and happiness; not to foster internal party contention; but to preserve, as far as I can, the unity of our party and to leave the peace of our people undisturbed.

I believe in civil liberty and religious freedom; I believe in just, equal laws and the faithful execution of law; I believe in the economical government; I believe in the protection of the weak against the strong; I believe in the harmony of labor and capital; I believe in human equality in every relation of life, and solemnly pledge myself to the guidance of all who would legislate under our free constitution, I shall be grateful for any recognition of which the party may deem me worthy.

With unshaken loyalty to the principles of the National Republican party; pledging myself to support the Federal Constitution and the constitution of our Commonwealth; relying upon the past glory and contemplating the future greatness and prosperity of our common country with a willingness to do whatever may contribute to her progress, her security, or her grandeur, and with an ardent desire to promote the peace, the happiness, and the material, intellectual and social advancement of mankind, I place myself upon the judgment of a candid people.

I am very truly yours,
JAS. A. ALLEN.

Free Silver Would Restore Prosperity
Free silver coinage would give no special advantage to the owners of silver mines. The increased number of dollars which it would set in actual circulation would raise the value of other kinds of property as sure as the value of silver mines. It is a standard of money caused by a single gold dollar that has decreased the value of all kinds of property except gold. When money is made scarce it becomes correspondingly powerful in its purchasing power while all other kinds of property become correspondingly weak in their purchasing power. It is the supply of any kind of property in relation to the demand that affects its value one way or the other. The amount of real estate, of wheat, corn and other kinds of property cannot be increased by an act of Congress. Consequently when the value of money is reduced or when a reduction is threatened, as by the reduction of the gold standard, the values of these kinds of property increase. It is a plain proposition that when the volume of circulating money is reduced all other values decline. Free silver coinage would restore prosperity because it would rehabilitate all kinds of property with their normal values.—Evansville Courier.
